

Hard Not To Fall
Written By Karissa Hoffart

Take your first steps baby walk to me
Stand up tall and move those feet
Don't worry I'll catch you if you fall

Four years old riding that new bike
No training wheels, holdin' on real tight
Ohhh baby, everybody falls

Falling isn't easy
When we don't have the choice
From the time we're small till they tell you you've grown old
Know you're not alone, and its not your fault
Yeah we all know it's.. hard not to fall

Teenage years have you wishing for love
Forgot to breathe, you got so caught up
Don't worry I'll catch you if you fall

He picks you up at your front door
Makes you think how could I want more
Ohhh baby, It's so hard not to fall

Falling isn't easy
When we don't have the choice
From the time we're small till they tell you you've grown old
Know you're not alone, and its not your fault
Yeah we all know it's.. hard not to fall

There comes a time when age takes its toll
We lose our balance, strength and control
But we need to remember

Falling isn't easy
When we don't have the choice
From the time we're small till they tell you you've grown old
Know you're not alone, and its not your fault
We all know it's.. hard not to fall
We all know it's.. hard not to fall
