

Dreamer
Written By Karissa Hoffart

She was born and raised on a farm by a small town,
Her dreams were big,
Her heart was set on this big world.
She took a chance; she knew she would fall down,
But that's the risk you have to take to fly.

To be a dreamer you need to take chances,
Don't let anyone tell you you're wrong,
You can make it to the top if you want to,
If you believe in yourself,
Just be who you are,
Dreamer.

She was bold enough to use her voice to speak up,
It may be hard,
But in the end it's worth it.
The chance she took made her, who she is today,
If you take the risk you'll have the chance to fly.

To be a dreamer you need to take chances,
Don't let anyone tell you you're wrong,
You can make it to the top if you want to,
If you believe in yourself,
Just be who you are,
Dreamer.

If you can dream it, you can do it,
Be fearless, believe it,
It's never too late.

To be a dreamer you need to take chances,
Don't let anyone tell you you're wrong,
You can make it to the top if you want to,
If you believe in yourself,
To be a dreamer you need to take chances,
Don't let anyone tell you you're wrong,
You can make it to the top if you want to,
If you believe in yourself,
Just be who you are, yeah be who you are.
Dreamer.
Dreamer.
